PRESIDENTS MESSAGE:

An old Anne Murray song (are there any new ones?) has been rattling around my brain pan recently because of national, international and personal events. "We sure could use a little good news today." Russia is being shunned by most of the world which has made me defer the purchase of that Zil sedan, since parts will be difficult to acquire. May have to settle for a Trabant! Nationally, well no need to go there, although our Florida petrol prices have shown a significant decrease (that counts as good news, doesn't it?). On the personal front, I have almost figured out the TR7 (It's haunted and hates me) and have managed to keep what fire there is contained in the cylinders. Thanks to one of our more southerly members, Hayes Harris of Wire Wheel Motors, with whom I had a brief telephonic communication the other week (YES, we actually talked, not texted) the TR3 has its head gasket/cracked head/whatever, problem solved with a dose of Blue Devil (just happened to be the name of my high school sports teams from over 60 years ago) and minimal loss of blood. Better living through chemistry as Dow chemical used to advertise. Yeah, Timothy Leary said that too. Thank you, Hayes!

Now that it is drivable again, my excuse for not changing the rear end oil, fixing the leaking wheel cylinder, adjusting the tappets (actually got that done!) replacing the front shocks, etc. has evaporated, which brings me to another word we will all recognize: Budget. My trusty F&W loosely defines it as planning the allocation of things, money, time, stockpiled items. Once, during a Congressional harangue over our nation's budget and spending, someone said that the Government was spending like the proverbial drunken sailor. Well, the late Senator John McCain, a retired naval officer. took umbrage with this characterization and said that, unlike the Government, when the sailor runs out of money, he or she stops spending.

Throughout my Air Force career and the 35 years since it ended, I can honestly (regretfully?) say that I really never operated on a budget! When the money ran out, I stopped spending, unless it was critical to survival, then the universal source of emergency income, plastic, came into play. I'm over that foible now and my biggest budgetary concern is all of this time I have on my hands. I volunteer two days a week as a veterans' advocate and set aside Thursday mornings for breakfast with the old guys and weekly grocery shopping (yeah, I do the bulk of that, with guidance from my mate of 56 years), but that leaves Tuesday, half of Thursday and all of Friday, Saturday and Sunday to decide how

I'm NOT going to while away the hours. OK, once a week I have cat box duty and I load and unload the dishwasher nearly every night. Balance the checkbook, read emails, send stupid jokes to folks I know in other states and at least one foreign land on the computer and look at ads for clever T-shirts that my spouse won't let me buy or wouldn't let me wear if I DID buy them. One she did approve of says: "My wife says I only have two faults, I don't listen andsomething else." Somehow, she thinks that's funny!

I occasionally get encouragement from one of my room mates in the form of "Are you ever going to work on (insert name of project vehicle or honey-do item here)? which sometimes positively energizes me, sometimes not so much. We all need to start budgeting our time and shekels toward making our steeds drivable and presentable for the upcoming driving and show season. When I checked the 3's tyres yesterday, they were found to only contain about 20 psi, so I fired up the air compressor and corrected that. OOOOH, another checklist item done. (Oops, forgot the spare.) How's YOUR list going?

When I sat down at the computer about a half hour ago, I had little or no idea what this month's message would be, but as someone once said, nature hates a vacuum, and will fill it with whatever is laying around. Speaking of vacuums, it's probably time for another of my household duties, vacuuming the last two carpets in our otherwise totally tiled abode. Where am I going to find the time?

Until next month,

Safety Fast

Articles!

The following article appeared in the July 2008 Newsletter of the MG Car Club – Florida

MG FIRST ON D-DAY – submitted by Dave Alexander

It's a little known fact that on D-Day, June 6, 1944, the first to arrive in occupied France was an MG. An MG? Sure, but the story is a bit complicated. In 1941 Cecil Kimber, Managing Director of MG, obtained a contract to manufacture the front end of the Albemarle bomber aircraft at the Abingdon factory. The Albemarle was Britain's first nose wheel bomber. It could be built in sections by different factories. The front end of the bomber contained the cockpit with all its controls. To manufacturer this nosepiece proved far more complex than any car ever produced by MG. Yet the workforce at Abingdon succeeded to construct 653 of these nosepieces. On D-Day the fast Albemarle planes were the first to drop airborne troops on the Continent so it seems fair to say that MG arrived there first.

And some funnies:

I asked my daughter to give me
the phone book. She laughed at me, called me a dinosaur and lent me her iPhone.
So the spider is dead, the iPhone
is broken and my daughter is furious!

Before there were emojis, there was Lucy.

Here is what our past exhibitors have said:

Oh What A Day...2/12/22

You nailed it again! Such a lovely day to share with several thousand new friends. Everything was perfect, truly and sincerely. The Gardens were happy, the dinosaurs were animated, the cars were purring, the crowds were cordial, hospitality was hospitable...an A+ for sure. Thank you so very much for including Henry, me and Sophia. She got a lot of nice compliments...makes t the three of us happy. Job well done all around. Our best to you, your committee members and staff. ~ Rocky Sincere thanks to you and your gang for another terrific car event at McKee! It was terrific! And whatever magic you have been performing to manage the weather was fully brought home to me this morning as the lightning, rain, and thunder woke my wife and me up around 6:30. Sure glad today wasn't yesterday!

With sincere appreciation-Ned

Thank you for having us! My wife and I were extremely impressed with how well organized everything was! We would love to be more involved with the Gardens especially since we are neighbors! Let us know if you ever need anything! ~ Brandon

It was a pleasure to meet you and to participate in your show. Everything was superb! We enjoyed being part of the show and loved the beautiful garden areas. Thanks for taking such good care of us. ~ Lary

Joanne and I would like to THANK you and the staff for a fabulous experience! The day was filled with meeting interesting owners and guest! We had many compliments about our car and the show in general. The hospitality house was fabulous and the day went by so fast! We do not do may shows but would be happy to participate in your show ANY TIME!

Thank you again, Charles and Joanne

I thought the car exhibition went flawless. I felt your staff and volunteers performed a great great job. Just wonderful!! I appreciated the breakfast, as well as the lunch. We all were taken care of by your help to the max. I am very happy that we all had a super turn out. Thank you so very much.

Great job! Robert

It is great news to read that the 2022 McKee Garden car show was a huge success ! There was a steady stream of attendees walking around the cars all day! As always your staff and volunteers did an outstanding job! The food was really nice and I would definitely have Einstein Brothers Bagels back again in 2023. It would be an honor to have the American Muscle Car Museum exhibit another car in 2023 at your show.

Best of Health, Mark, Tetiana & baby Matthew

Thank you for including my 512 Ferrari! It was a lovely day and we really enjoyed meeting so many nice people! The venue was terrific, the lunches were really good, and thanks for the chairs! You folks did a great job and we hope to return next year.

Sincerely, Don and Karen

Thank you so much for inviting us, it was a great gathering of people and their cars at a great spot. Congrats on the attendance and new memberships!

Kind regards, Martin

I wanted to take a moment to express my appreciation for being in your car show. Very well run and organized and a beautiful setting of course. All your volunteers were great, very helpful and personable. ~ Bob
